The Center for Vascular Medicine is dedicated to helping patients diagnose and treat vascular disease in the legs, feet, and pelvic area. Our physicians help with deep venous and arterial disorders that cause chronic pelvic pain, leg pain, especially at night or walking, and foot discomfort. We understand that patients can be confused when it comes to vascular diseases and how they relate to the heart, brain, or abdominal organs. The Center for Vascular Medicine specializes in helping patients find relief from pain caused by chronic pelvic problems, leg pain, restless legs or feet, and discoloration of the lower extremities.

Our physicians help diagnose and treat deep venous and arterial disorders that cause symptoms of poor blood circulation. Patients visit our facility when they show signs of fatigue due to poor oxygen flow in the legs and feet; swollen legs; ulcers; discoloration of lower extremities that cause pelvic pain in women.
