Debbie Neal Interiors - London Interior Designers & Decorators. Interior designer in London, England. Since 2003, Debbie Neal Interiors have offered a bespoke interior design service that meets the needs of our customers to build a home that represents their personality and takes their practical needs into account.

Debbie Neal Interiors are a residential interior design business based in London that is passionate about providing customers with a stylish and comfortable home that supports their lifestyle. With fresh excitement, we approach and project and work closely with our customers to interpret and develop their individual tastes and to ensure that something new and interesting is produced.

The patterns of today's interiors are about individuality, less prescribed, and contrasting sculpture. In a contemporary world, retro and traditional antiques are combined with touches set against a utilitarian backdrop. It requires an ability to find the link between parts and the knowledge of where to source them in order to accomplish this. With the right degree of wow factor to suit your personality, Debbie Neal Interiors has the ability and expertise to turn your home into something to be proud of.
