Emma was trained as a health professional but have always had an interest in art and decoration. During her free time Emma, used to go to art galleries because she was fascinated with colourful art. she took interest in flower arranging and floristry and proceeded to attend flower courses at Constance Spry flower school and many years at Jane Packer flower school in London, and also attended other well known flower schools in London.

Emma Floral Designs

The experiences gained over the years have enabled me to do various types of floral decorations be it modern, contemporary or traditional designs.
