Kulu Kulu Sushi - Japanese Sushi Restaurants London Soho. Kulu Kulu Sush is Small Japanese restaurant with simple decor serving sushi and cooked dishes from a conveyor belt.

At Kulu Kulu Sush diners sit around a conveyer belt while small plates go round and round. Diners pick up by themselves, thus dispensing with bad service for good. Kulu Kul Chef traditionally prepares the dishes in the middle of a conveyer belt in a no-nonsense fashion. It's great for a quick bite if you're in a small group.

Kulu Kulu Food

During pick hours diners are only allowed to stay at Kulu Kulu for a maximum time 45 minutes. However, there's no time limit for Waiter to come to diners table and bring them food, this is ample time to exhaust the selection of dishes going around the belt.

Kulu Kulu Food Selection

Diners selection of salmon and tuna maki rolls and sashimi is standard. Kulu Kulu hand-rolled prawn tempura is fresh and still manages to feel healthy, regardless of being deep-fried, wrapped in crispy seaweed and stuffed full of creamy avocado. The teriyaki chicken and salmon are perfectly prepared and sweet, enjoy fresh oysters with a sprinkling of paprika.
